I have lived in Arizona, in the northwest valley since 2005. I started my family here. I am the father of 3 young kids, and want to see them and everyone thrive here. By day, I am a technology consulting leader working with companies across the globe to evolve, improve, and build successful strategies; much in the same way I feel I can help the party, legislative district and state move forward and continue to evolve. None of us here are happy with the outcome of the election and the future we may be facing is scary and uncertain, but because of that I feel it's critical I do what I can do to drive a better outcome in the midterms, and see more of our neighbors and fellow citizens better informed and exercising their vote in a way that will improve us as a nation and society.
